CAMBRIDGE Summer Music FESTIVAL

2-30 JULY
2025

www.cambridgesummermusic.com

Welcome to the Cambridge Summer Music Festival

Once again, I'm thrilled to say that July is Cambridge Summer Music month. We welcome to the city musicians of the highest international standing in some of Cambridge's most beautiful venues.

© B Durant

Our ever popular partnership with the Cambridge University Botanic Garden begins our 2025 events. Other familiar favourites return this year. Eugene Onegin, Tchaikovsky's sumptuous opera, comes to Childerley Hall, the Gabrieli Consort and Players perform Haydn's The Seasons in the splendour of Ely Cathedral and the fabulous Martin James Bartlett joins us once again. We will also welcome the Nash Ensemble, who celebrate their 60th birthday with a very special concert of chamber music. We are delighted to present two of Benjamin Britten's finest works - Peter Grimes is performed by the Cambridge Philharmonic and British Youth Opera, and the Southrepps Music Festival bring a staging of the hauntingly beautiful church parable Curlew River.

I've already mentioned a new collaboration with British Youth Opera and we are very pleased to be presenting an unprecedented number of concerts by the most exciting musicians of the next generation, a cause that is very close to all our hearts at CSM. Another new relationship begins with the Kathleen Ferrier Awards, whose 2024 winner will perform with us. We also continue to work with the Young Classical Artists Trust, Cambridge Camerata, Cambridge Youth Music, and I myself will be working with young singers in our Masterclass.

In our final week the brilliant pianist and broadcaster David Owen Norris gives the first Cambridge Summer Music Lecture, telling us about (and performing) his completion of Elgar's Piano Concerto. Our finale will feature an outstanding group of singers and musicians to perform Rossini's hugely popular Petite Messe Solennelle, an event not to be missed.

Prime Brass featuring Daisy Livesey Wednesday 2 July

Well known for it's performances at the lighter end of the musical spectrum and popular family concerts, local ensemble Prime Brass returns to Sounds Green with singer Daisy Livesey. Something for young and old alike – expect toe-tapping music that is sure to have you up and dancing!

Essex Jazz Collective Wednesday 9 July

The Essex Jazz Collective is an exciting new 6-piece jazz band with members based in North West Essex. EJC plays a full range of fun, singable jazz plus crossover songs that will have you humming for days afterwards. Whether it's Blues or Bebop, smoochy Ballads or the Great American Song Book, there is something for everyone to enjoy in the sunshine.

Beskydy: Klezmer Band Wednesday 16 July

Guaranteed to result in limb movement – a delightful fusion of fiddle, accordion, clarinet, furiously creating beautiful mayhem! Beskydy's music has its roots in the dance rhythms and songs of Moravia, Bohemia and Slovakia, where the Beskydy mountains run. From traditional dance music to songs, Beskydy create magic and presence with their exceptional musical ability.

Honey and the Bear Wednesday 23 July

A British Folk and Roots duo who combine delicately interweaving vocal harmonies with evocative songwriting. With diverse sounds, textures and rhythms that flow from the fast and furious to gentle ballads, their live performances are spirited and dynamic, conjuring stories in song. The multi-instrumentalist pair, comprise songwriters Jon Hart (guitar, bass, bouzouki) and Lucy Hart (guitar, ukulele, bass, banjo, mandolin & percussion).

Cores Do Samba Wednesday 30 July

Led by Brazilian singer Caru Lins, the group explores the infectious, rhythmic and uplifting music of Brazil, especially the 'MPB' style (Música Popular Brasileira), plus samba, bossa nova and funk, and songs by Gilberto Gil, Chico Buarque, João Donato, Tom Jobim, Djavan, Joyce and Ivan Lins.

Saturday 5 July, 4pm
Saffron Hall, Saffron Walden

British Youth Opera
Will Kerley director

Cambridge Philharmonic Chorus
Cambridge Philharmonic Orchestra
Harry Sever conductor

Mark Le Brocq Peter Grimes
Mark Stone Balstrode
Emma Bell Ellen Orford

When Benjamin Britten read George Crabbe's poem The Borough, it sparked in him the idea for one of the greatest operas written in the English language, his timeless Peter Grimes. From the troubled setting of the Suffolk coast – and the eponymous anti-hero's relationship to the gossip-fuelled village – Britten weaves music of beauty, intricacy, humour and incredible humanity.

Three established names in the three key roles – tenor Mark Le Brocq, baritone Mark Stone and soprano Emma Bell – are joined by the next generation of opera professionals from British Youth Opera's advanced summer programme, for this semi-staged performance at Saffron Hall.

Nash Ensemble Birthday Concert

Friday 11 July, 7.30pm

Cambridge Union, Debating Chamber

Chamber Ensemble in Residence at Wigmore Hall, the Nash Ensemble is regarded as a standard-bearer of British music-making around the world. This season it celebrates its 60th anniversary, and has marked its birthday with a series of programmes illustrating the variety of music performed over the years, from Mozart to the avant garde.

Today's celebratory programme includes Haydn's Quartet Op. 77, No. 1, a late work that epitomises his mastery in composing for string quartet. Dvořák's Piano Quintet No. 2 is acknowledged as one of the masterpieces of this form, combining an expressive lyricism with elements from Czech folk music.

workshop leader

A chance to hear the work of up-and-coming young composers – and to gain an insight into composing techniques, including writing for particular instruments. A number of compositions for string trio, written by young people aged 21 and under, will be performed and workshopped by professional musicians, with each composer receiving individual feedback and advice from the musicians and from composer Ewan Campbell.

A morning and afternoon session will be held with a break for lunch. Audience members are welcome to drop in at any time. The day will end with a celebratory performance of all the pieces. See website for precise timings.

"My son was very moved to hear his piece being played by professional musicians. It's an experience he will not forget. He learnt so much and is busy applying all the suggestions to his composition."

Harpland album review:

PERFORMANCE
 MAY CONTAIN
 FLASHING LIGHTS

FitkinWall present Harpland

Sunday 13 July, 7.30pm

Long Barn, Childerley Hall

Dry Drayton, CB23 8BA

(in conjunction with Childerley Hall)

Composer Graham Fitkin and harpist Ruth Wall follow threads of migration, loss and longing in their new show, inspired by the stories of the Highland Clearances. Ruth Wall's explorations into Gaelic song, fiddle and pipe tunes of the Scottish Highlands where she grew up, are at the heart of this show. Composer Graham Fitkin has created enigmatic and mesmerising versions of these tunes for Ruth's three harps – the sitar-like Renaissance bray harp, the beautiful medieval Gaelic wire harp (clàrsach) and the Scottish lever harp.

The movement of people during the Highland Clearances is brought into modern-day focus: Ruth spoke with recent migrants to Scotland, and their voices are incorporated at times in the performance. FitkinWall have created something beautiful and at times disturbing. Dark, fragmented folk moods transform into soaring fast-paced music in this memorable show.

The concert is lit by a specially commissioned light installation by artist Peter Freeman.

Pianist Daniel Lebhardt has been described by the New York Times as playing with '...power, poetry and formidable technique'. His programme presents works from the second half of the 19th century, encompassing the height of the Romantic period.

Liszt's Sonata in B minor is his most revered work for solo piano, comprising one giant arch of a single movement lasting almost half an hour. Robert Schumann's Songs of Dawn and Ghost Variations, together with Clara Schumann's Variations on a Theme by Robert Schumann, form a snapshot of the final year of their marriage together. Religious works by Franz Liszt bookend the recital.

Benjamin Britten Curlew River

Saturday 19 July, 7.30pm

Jesus College Chapel

(by kind permission of the Master and Fellows of Jesus College)

The hauntingly beautiful and moving story of a demented mother who seeks her lost son, only to find his grave by the side of the Curlew River. Curlew River is the first of Britten's three 'Parables for Church Performance'. It is based on the Japanese Noh play Sumidagawa, which Britten saw during a visit to Japan in early 1956.

Britten and librettist William Plomer adapted the story from the 15th-century play, studying its history and the techniques of Noh performance, and working it into a new context of medieval religious drama.

HOW TO BOOK

Tickets for all concerts are available online via:
www.cambridgesummertime.com

Tickets will also be available on the door for all events unless sold out.

REFUNDS

CSM regrets that tickets cannot be exchanged, nor money refunded, except when an event is postponed or cancelled, or if it is sold out and we are able to resell the tickets. All information is correct at the time of printing. CSM reserves the right to make any changes to the published programme that prove necessary.

ACCESSIBILITY INFORMATION

All venues are accessible by wheelchair. Please note Sidney Sussex College and Our Lady & the English Martyrs Catholic Church provide step-free access via a separate entrance. A ramp is available at St Botolph's Church to facilitate access. There is limited space for wheelchair users and spaces may not be available in all price bands. An induction loop is provided in some places – please contact CSM for information on particular venues: info@cambridgesummertime.com. Free tickets are available for carers accompanying registered disabled ticket holders.

FRIENDS BOOKING

Friends of CSM enjoy priority booking and reserved seating in unreserved venues when they book in advance. Seats will be reserved until 15 minutes before the start of each performance. For information on joining the Friends visit: www.cambridgesummertime.com/support-us
